Livelihood & Skill Development

SUNJEEVNI FOUNDATION aims to build self-reliant communities by creating sustainable livelihood opportunities, especially for women, youth, rural artisans, and small farmers. Key focus areas:

Provide vocational training and skill upgradation programs to enhance employability. Develop entrepreneurship and micro-enterprise models for income generation. Form and strengthen Self-Help Groups (SHGs) and cooperative clusters. Support artisan clusters with training, design development, and market linkages. Promote organic farming, modern agriculture practices, and direct farmer-market connect. Facilitate access to government schemes and financial literacy for rural communities.

Social Welfare

Sunजीवनी Foundation
Parmarth Hi Swarth...

SUNJEEVNI FOUNDATION is deeply committed to protecting the rights and dignity of the most vulnerable and neglected groups in society. Our social welfare initiatives focus on bringing relief, care, and empowerment to those who often remain unseen and unheard — including war widows, orphans, elderly citizens, differently-abled persons, and transgender communities. The Foundation works to build inclusive support systems that ensure these individuals are not left behind but are given equal opportunities to live with respect and security.

Provide support and rehabilitation for war widows, orphans, and abandoned children. Run old-age homes, senior citizen care centres, and community drop-in centres for the elderly. Extend help to transgender individuals and other marginalized groups for social and economic inclusion. Facilitate access to Government welfare schemes, pensions, and social security benefits. Implement anti-poverty programs, food security drives, and emergency support for the poorest families.

Environment & Research

SUNJEEVNI FOUNDATION believes that sustainable development is only possible when we protect our natural resources and promote lifestyles that are in harmony with nature. We work to raise community awareness, adopt eco-friendly practices, and encourage innovative solutions to pressing environmental challenges. At the same time, we recognize the importance of traditional Indian wellness systems — like Yoga, Ayurveda, and Naturopathy — which promote a balanced, healthy, and sustainable way of living for both individuals and communities.

Our Environment & Research focus includes:

Promote environmental conservation through tree plantation drives, pollution control awareness, and community participation in green initiatives. Implement waste management solutions, recycling practices, and clean surroundings in rural and urban communities. Encourage the use of renewable and clean energy sources to reduce carbon footprints. Conduct workshops and outreach campaigns on climate change adaptation, sustainable living, and eco-friendly habits.

Wellness

Revive and popularize traditional wellness systems like Yoga, Ayurveda, and Naturopathy to promote holistic health and a nature-aligned lifestyle. Carry out community-based research to find practical, low-cost solutions for waste disposal, sanitation, water conservation, and public health improvement. Partner with experts, academic institutions, and environmental bodies to develop innovative models that address local environmental issues effectively.
